A MODEL FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF PRODUCTION ACTIVITIES USING EDP EQUIPMENT, IN A MACHINE BUILDING ENTERPRISE

V. Biță, Central Institute for Management and Informatics, Bucharest, (Romania)

This paper presents the basic elements composing a model for the management of production economic activities. The main activities, which are considered in the model are production programming, production scheduling (break-down) and production reporting. The paper will emphasize the features of such a model for a machine building enterprise.