D. Cojocaru and C. Volintiru

ON THE BENEFITS ACHIEVED BY THE FOREIGN TRADE COMPANIES

(Cu privire la beneficiile întreprinderilor de comerț exterior)

Finanțe și Credit (Romania), No. 8, 1969

The authors give a brief outline of the present mechanism of formation of the foreign trade companies' benefits which have a well-defined budgetary character, emphasizing the need that the benefits of these companies should better reflect their activity especially with regard to the closer relation that should exist between the benefits achieved and the efficiency of the import-export operations. In order to free the budget from a number of obligations that do not pertain to it, the authors suggest some measures for the improvement of the way the benefits are constituted, that is of the benefits achieved by the foreign trade companies in view of strengthening the role of economic self-management in this field of activity.